

SPARTA Holds Ground Breaking Ceremony

SPARTA's facility is scheduled to be completed in 2006 in Thornton Research Park.

A groundbreaking ceremony was held on April 11, 2006 in the city's Thornton Research Park for SPARTA's proposed 97,000 square-foot facility occupying 15 acres. The plans feature an additional 35,000 square-foot option based on anticipated growth of the company's operations in Huntsville. SPARTA is an employee-owned company founded in 1979. Specializing in systems engineering and advanced technology, its core business areas include strategic defense and offense systems, tactical weapons systems, space systems and information systems.

Pictured from left: Dave Hargrove, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of Huntsville/Madison County; Sue Schmitz, Alabama State Representative; Loretta Spencer, Mayor City of Huntsville; Dr. Bob Sepucha, CEO SPARTA; Dale Strong, Commissioner Madison County.